SYDNEY METRO NORTHWEST – OPERATIONS, TRAINS AND SYSTEMS Norwest – Brookhollow Avenue re-opening and out-of-hours work

The $8.3 billion Sydney Metro Northwest is the first stage of Sydney Metro – Australia's biggest public transport project. The Northwest Rapid Transit Consortium (NRT) is delivering eight new railway stations, 23km of new track, 4,000 commuter parking spaces and Sydney's new generation of safe, reliable and fully automated metro trains. NRT will deliver this critical infrastructure and operate and maintain it for 15 years.

Due to unforeseen delays, Brookhollow Avenue will now re-open to traffic at 5am on Friday 8 June 2018.

At the completion of services cutovers on Thursday 31 May, work to complete the road pavement including construction of kerb and gutter, asphaltting and line marking will be undertaken.

Between Tuesday 5 June and Thursday 7 June out-of-hours work will be undertaken between 8pm and 5am to complete line marking and removal of concrete barriers.

What to expect during this activity:

- Construction vehicle movements including flashing lights and reversing beepers for the safety of workers
- Construction noise associated with this work
- Movement of concrete barriers and line marking
- Pedestrian and traffic diversions in line with road occupancy approvals.

We will manage these impacts by implementing the following:

- Implement traffic and pedestrian controls in line with road authorities
- Minimise the need for vehicles to reverse
- Use measures to minimise noise impacts from general plant and equipment such as non-tonal reversing alarms and turning off plant and equipment when not in use
- Notify neighbouring residents of any out-of-hours work and/or deliveries of equipment.

NRT apologises for the delay and thank you for your ongoing patience and understanding while we complete this work.
