

Sydney Metro is Australia’s biggest public transport project.

Services start in 2019 in the city’s North West with a train every four minutes in the peak. Metro rail will be extended into the CBD and beyond to Bankstown in 2024. There will be new CBD metro railway stations underground at Martin Place, Pitt Street and Barangaroo and new metro platforms under Central.

In 2024, Sydney will have 31 metro railway stations and a 66 km standalone metro railway system – the biggest urban rail project in Australian history. There will be ultimate capacity for a metro train every two minutes in each direction under the Sydney city centre.

The upgrade of the T3 Bankstown Line to metro standards received planning approval on 19 December 2018.

Southwest metro early work is being delivered by John Holland Pty Ltd and Laing O’Rourke Australia Construction Pty Ltd, including station and bridge investigations and installation of electrical cabling within the rail corridor.

Out-of-hours work

Due to the nature of some activities and for the safety of workers, this work will occur outside standard construction hours when trains are not running. Out-of-hours work activities (weather and site conditions permitting) include:

Date/Time	Locations	Activities
Monday 13 May to Friday 17 May between 10pm and 4am	Work will take place in the rail corridor between Marrickville Station and Campsie Station.	Overnight surveys, visual and structural inspections of the rail track. Hand held torches will be used during these works. Lights will be directed away from residential properties when in use. Access to the rail corridor will be via the existing rail corridor and pedestrian gates located between Marrickville and Campsie Stations.

Access to buildings and driveways will be maintained at all times. This work is not expected to be noisy, however we will take every possible step to minimise any disruption by switching off equipment when not in use.

Thank you for your cooperation while we complete this essential work.
