

Sydney Metro is Australia's biggest public transport project.

The Sydney Metro West project will connect Greater Parramatta and the Sydney CBD with new metro rail, more than doubling the existing rail capacity between the two centres. This once-in-a-century infrastructure investment will become the fastest, easiest and most reliable journey between the Sydney and Parramatta CBDs and will transform the city for generations to come.

The formal planning process has started including confirmation of station locations at Westmead, Parramatta, Sydney Olympic Park, North Strathfield, Burwood North, Five Dock and The Bays. Potential stations at Rydalmere and Pyrmont also under investigation. Construction starts later this year at The Bays Precinct to prepare the site for major tunnelling.

Metro services started in 2019 in the city's North West and will be extended into the CBD and beyond to Bankstown in 2024, when Sydney will have 31 stations on a new 66km standalone metro rail system.

Site survey: Sydney Olympic Park

Non-intrusive survey work will be undertaken in your area to assist with early planning and design for Sydney Metro West.

Work is expected to commence on Monday 4 May 2020 and continue for up to one month (weather and site conditions permitting).

Work will include:

- Capturing details of vegetation, road surfaces, buildings and structures, and fences and embankments
- Technicians using hand held devices and tripod mounted equipment.

What to expect:

- The work is not expected to be noisy
- Access to pathways and buildings will be maintained at all times.

Work will be completed during standard construction hours which are Monday to Friday 7am to 6pm and Saturday 8am to 1pm.

Please note: no images will be taken of private property.

Sydney Metro will continue to undertake work across its projects in accordance with current Government advice, and will continue to implement social distancing and travel and hygiene measures to protect employees and members of the community. Continuing with these works is critical to ensuring project continuity, and the project team will continue to review and assess activities in line with any further updates.
