

Sydney Metro is Australia's biggest public transport project.

New metro rail will become the fastest, easiest and most reliable journey between the Sydney and Parramatta CBDs. Sydney Metro West will service the key precincts of Greater Parramatta, Sydney Olympic Park, The Bays and the Sydney CBD.

Metro services started in 2019 in the city's North West with a train every four minutes in the peak. Metro rail will be extended into the CBD and beyond to Bankstown in 2024. Sydney Metro includes new underground CBD stations at Barangaroo, Martin Place and Pitt Street with new metro platforms under Central.

In 2024, Sydney Metro will have 31 stations on a new 66km standalone metro rail system – the biggest urban rail project in Australian history with ultimate capacity for a metro train every two minutes in each direction under the Sydney city centre.

Site survey: North Strathfield

Non-intrusive investigations are being undertaken to assist with the early planning and design of Sydney Metro West. Work to locate and inspect existing underground services around North Strathfield station will be undertaken from Monday 6 July to Friday 24 July 2020, weather and site conditions permitting.

Work will involve:

- Confirming location of existing utility service routes and inspection of existing service pits
- Technicians using hand held devices and tripod mounted equipment
- Marking of utility locations.

What to expect:

- The work is not expected to be noisy
- Access to buildings and driveways will be maintained at all times.

Work will be completed during standard construction hours which are Monday to Friday 7am to 6pm.

Please note: no images will be taken of private property.

Sydney Metro will continue to undertake work across its projects in accordance with current Government advice, and will continue to implement social distancing and travel and hygiene measures to protect employees and members of the community. Continuing with these works is critical to ensuring project continuity, and the project team will continue to review and assess activities in line with any further updates.
