

Notification – Claremont Meadows

26 October 2020

Sydney Metro is Australia's biggest public transport project

Sydney Metro – Western Sydney Airport is the new metro railway line which will service Greater Western Sydney and the new Western Sydney International (Nancy-Bird Walton) Airport.

The railway will service the new airport and airport business park, the Western Sydney Aerotropolis, Luddenham, Orchard Hills and St Marys – here customers can connect to the existing Sydney Trains suburban T1 Western Line. The NSW and Australian governments have a shared objective of having Sydney Metro - Western Sydney Airport operational when the airport opens for passenger services.

World-class metro rail means better access to more places, faster travel times, less congestion on roads and a reduced reliance on cars. Metro services now connect the city's North West between Rouse Hill and Chatswood and will be extended into the Sydney CBD and beyond to Bankstown in 2024. Construction on Sydney Metro West will start later this year – the project will connect Greater Parramatta with the Sydney CBD, linking communities to rail services along the way.
