

Notification – Central Station

10 February 2020

Sydney Metro is Australia's biggest public transport project.

Services started in May 2019 in the city's North West with a train every four minutes in the peak. Metro rail will be extended into the CBD and beyond to Bankstown in 2024. There will be new CBD metro railway stations at Martin Place, Pitt Street and Barangaroo and new metro platforms at Central.

In 2024, Sydney will have 31 metro railway stations and a 66 km standalone metro railway system – the biggest urban rail project in Australian history. There will be ultimate capacity for a metro train every two minutes in each direction under the Sydney city centre.

Laing O'Rourke is delivering the new Sydney Metro platforms under Central Station as well as the landmark Central Walk - a new underground pedestrian concourse to help customers get around Sydney's busiest railway station.

Upcoming work at Central Station

Sydney Metro would like to remind you that due to the nature of some activities, some of this work will take place at night or during weekend rail possessions for safety reasons or when trains are not running.

The construction of Central Walk (an underground pedestrian concourse) is continuing on the suburban Platforms 16 to 23. Work includes hoarding installation and excavation under the platform within the hoarded work zones.

From Saturday 22 February (1am) to Monday 24 February 2020 (4am), a 40-metre section on the edge of Platform 23 will be reinforced ahead of future work for Central Walk. This work will include excavation and saw cutting work on Platform 23 as well as installation of hoarding.

What to expect

- Machinery used during this weekend work will include excavators, tipper trucks and construction vehicles, hand and power tools including jackhammers and concrete saws.
- To follow a specific sequence during rail possessions weekend, there will be saw cutting activities on Platform 23 between 2am and 5am, Saturday 22 February 2020.
- Upcoming work on Platform 22-23: Following Sunday 23 February, excavation work will start within the hoarded work zone on Platform 22-23. At times this work will be noisy. High-noise generating activities are scheduled (where possible) during daytime hours.
- We appreciate that you may be affected by some noise coming from Central Station construction work. Unfortunately, some noise is unavoidable and we understand the disturbance and inconvenience this noise may cause you. The construction team has made every effort to minimise noise and has planned work during standard construction hours where possible. We continue to work in accordance with a noise and vibration management plan approved by the Department of Planning and Environment and ongoing real time noise monitoring is being undertaken from Chalmers Street.

The construction of the new entrance on Chalmers street is continuing with piling work. This work is being undertaken during standard construction hours. As a reminder, work will continue from 1pm to 5pm Saturdays in February 2020. To minimise impacts from high noise activities, Sydney Metro will limit this work to cage lift / installation and concrete work between 1pm and 5pm wherever possible.
