

Sydney Metro is Australia's biggest public transport project.

New metro rail will become the fastest, easiest and most reliable journey between the Sydney and Parramatta CBDs. Sydney Metro West will service the key precincts of Greater Parramatta, Sydney Olympic Park, The Bays and the Sydney CBD.

Metro services started in 2019 in the city's North West with a train every four minutes in the peak. Metro rail will be extended into the CBD and beyond to Bankstown in 2024. Sydney Metro includes new underground CBD stations at Barangaroo, Martin Place and Pitt Street with new metro platforms under Central.

In 2024, Sydney Metro will have 31 stations on a new 66km standalone metro rail system – the biggest urban rail project in Australian history with ultimate capacity for a metro train every two minutes in each direction under the Sydney city centre.

Soil Testing – North Strathfield

Essential investigation work (non-intrusive soil testing) is being undertaken by Sydney Metro West to assist with planning and design work for Sydney Metro West. This work will be done on Monday 3 August, 2020, during standard construction hours 7am to 6pm, weather and site conditions permitting.

This work will occur on verge of Queen Street, North Strathfield (see map overleaf).

This testing will take approximately 30 minutes to complete.

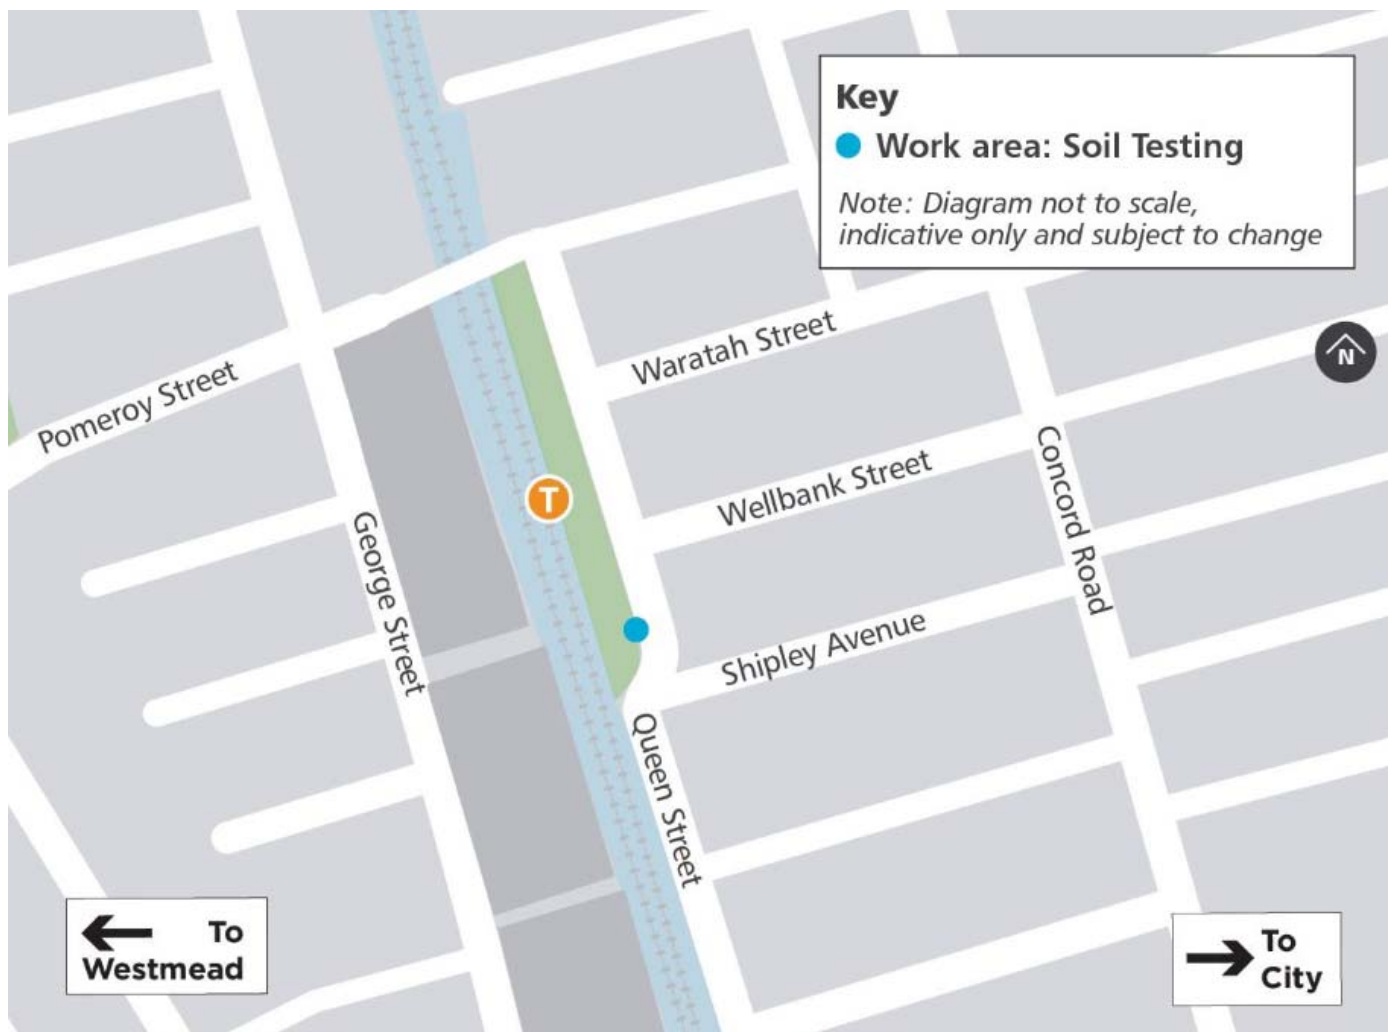

Work will involve:

- Establishing a clearly marked, temporary exclusion zone within which the testing will take place
- Rolling out power cables to test locations
- Inserting metal pickets into the ground to test the soil.

The area will be reinstated at the completion of work and will have minimal impact.
