

Notification – Construction update

11 January 2023

Sydney Metro is Australia's biggest public transport project.

The NSW Government is delivering Sydney Metro West - a new underground metro railway which will double rail capacity between Parramatta and the Sydney CBD, with a target travel time of about 20 minutes between the two centres.

Sydney Metro was granted planning approval to construct twin underground rail tunnels between Westmead and The Bays for Sydney Metro West in March 2021. This includes the construction of a new power supply route from Rozelle substation to the future metro station at The Bays. New cables have been laid underground to provide a dedicated power supply source to the Tunnel Boring Machines (TBMs) for Sydney Metro West.

Investigation and surveys – Robert Street & Buchanan Street

Ongoing survey work will be undertaken for Sydney Metro West on Robert Street and Buchanan Street intersection. Work will take place on between Wednesday 18 and Friday 20 January between 7am and 6pm.

Work will involve

- Traffic control set up
- Site marking, measuring and cataloguing
- Temporary opening of pits along the road

What to expect

- Surveying equipment operating onsite
- Intermittent stoppages and temporary lane closures and traffic management to ensure the safety of works and the community

Equipment used

Equipment used will include but not be limited to traffic control vehicles, electromagnetic wands, small-scale ground penetrating radars and surveying equipment such as scanners and tripods.

Changes to traffic pedestrian and cycle routes – Traffic changes

During the work, intermittent stoppages and temporary lane closures for motorists will be required while surveying is being performed on the road. Please allow for extra time when travelling while this work is taking place. Traffic controllers will be in place to assist motorists, pedestrians, and cyclists.
