

Project Update – Crows Nest Station

Pacific Highway out-of-hours work May 2025

Sydney Metro is Australia's biggest public transport project.

Services started in May 2019 in the city's North West with a train every four minutes in the peak. On 19 August 2024, services began on the new section of the M1 Line, including 15.5 kilometres of metro rail extending from the existing Metro North West at Chatswood, under the harbour and through the Sydney CBD and onto Sydenham. Commuters can now catch metro services every four minutes in the peak from new stations at Crows Nest, Victoria Cross, Barangaroo, Martin Place, Gadigal and Waterloo, and new metro platforms at Central.

While all city stations are now open, commuters will notice hoarding and minor ongoing work in the precinct areas at most new stations. This work largely involves improvements to roads, footpaths and traffic intersections.

Out-of-hours cable pulling work

Underground conduit repair and replacement works are expected to be completed Thursday 8 May.

Starting Sunday, 11 May, work will be carried out between 7pm and 5am the following morning to pull new cable through the repaired conduit within the footpath and roadway along Pacific Highway between Shirley Road and Albany Street.

Work will be completed over five nights (Sunday 11, Monday 12, Wednesday 14, Thursday 15 and Sunday 18 May) with hand tools and small cable pulling vehicles and will be of a low impact. Contingency nights will be Monday 19, Wednesday 21, Thursday 22, Sunday 25, Monday 26, Wednesday 28, Thursday 29 May and Sunday 1 July.

Traffic control and signage will be in place to safely direct motorists, pedestrians, and cyclists around the work.
